DREW OLSON

Head Coach and Camp Director

Drew Olson completed his 11th year as head coach of Concordia University women's basketball in 2016-17. The program's all-time winningest coach (282-91), Olson guided the Bulldogs to their first-ever national title game appearance in 2015.

Over the past six seasons, Olson has directed his teams to a combined six GPAC titles (tournament and regular season), six national tournament trips, three national semifinal appearances, an overall record of 175-34 and a GPAC mark of 101-21. The 2014-15 (35-3), 2016-17 (34-3) and 2011-12 (34-3) squads each eclipsed the 30-win mark. Concordia completed the 2016-17 season with an active streak of 74-consecutive top 25 rankings.

Olson has led the Bulldogs to national tournament appearances in nine of the past 10 years. His nine national tournament trips and 14 national tournament wins are the most among all coaches in the history of Concordia women's basketball. He owns a record of 14-9 at the national championships with one national championship game, three semifinal and two quarterfinal appearances. Named the 2012 and 2017 GPAC coach of the year, Olson garnered midlands/state college coach of the year honors from the Lincoln Journal Star and Omaha World-Herald in 2015. He has now been tabbed a Women's Basketball Coaches Association region II coach of the year three times (2012, 2015 and 2017).

Over his 11 seasons, Olson has coached six players who have combined for 10 All-America awards. Bailey Morris (2011-15) won back-to-back GPAC player of the year awards (first in program history), was twice named first team All-America and became Concordia's first-ever NAIA Division II National Player of the Year. Morris ended her career as the program's all-time leading scorer. The most recent All-American was Philly Lammers (2016-17), who became the first freshman in school history to place on either of the first, second or third team All-America lists.

Drew and his wife M'Leigh reside in Seward with their daughter Adelyn and sons Jacoby and Quinton.

TAE'LOR PURDY-KORELL

Assistant Coach

Tae'lor Purdy-Korell completed her first season as an assistant women's basketball coach at Concordia University in 2015-16. The 2016-17 season marks her first year as a full-time assistant on head coach Drew Olson's staff.

While a student athlete at Regis University in Denver, Colorado, Purdy-Korell was named the 2014 Regis Women's Athlete of the Year, earned first team all-Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference three times and received honorable mention All-America recognition while competing at the NCAA Division II level. She averaged 21.8 points and 10.2 rebounds per game her senior season and earned numerous additional honors, including selection to all-region and Capital One Academic All-America and All-district teams.

In 2015 she received the Sportswoman of Colorado College Basketball award. She holds a Bachelor of Science degree in biology, a Bachelor of Arts in Spanish and a Master of Science in health care administration.

She is married to Lance Korell, current men's basketball assistant coach at Concordia University.

CONCORDIA GIRLS' BASKETBALL CAMP

Dear players and coaches,

Please consider attending our individual and team camps this summer. I think you'll find them to be competitive, fun and beneficial for individual and team growth. Both our individual and team camps are more affordable than most area camps, and we provide services that other camps do not. For example, our "time and situation" experiences provide a chance for coaching staff and team to work on executing in pressure situations. Our individual camp offers lectures on nutrition, sports psychology and faith development from an experienced and motivated staff. Be proud to learn from a team that has a tradition of athletic success and has won an unprecedented seven Academic National Championships as awarded by the WBCA. With this standard of excellence, it's understandable why so many girls have chosen Concordia University's camps. I look forward to seeing you at Concordia this summer.

In Christ,
Drew Olson, Head Women's Basketball Coach
